

Ludgrove Music Department
Summer Concert

Thursday 30th May 2019

Ludgrove Theatre

6.30pm

Welcome from the Director of Music

A warm welcome to our Summer Concert – it is a great pleasure to see you here this evening.

The past few weeks have been tainted by the dawning realisation that our current group of top year boys will not be with us for very much longer. While this time will be filled with excitement around prospects new for them, I cannot help but feel a tinge of sadness over the loss of a truly fantastic year group when it comes to the school's musical endeavours. From their astonishing performance of the Lion King back in the Michaelmas term, to their leadership of our ensembles, and of course some extremely memorable solo moments, this top year truly have thrown themselves into the musical life of Ludgrove.

This evening's concert will rightly feature a number of those boys who leave us at the end of this term, but I am also extremely reassured that music here will continue to flourish in the safe hands of those boys further down the school – some of whom will also entertain you tonight. The number of boys in Junior Choir, for example, seems to grow on a daily basis, and many boys in the Twos are already showing great potential for their upcoming final year.

Evenings like tonight bring such joy in coming together through music, and I am extremely grateful to all of our ensemble leaders for all the hard work they put in throughout the year. We remain in need of some more orchestral instrumentalists, and I would strongly encourage any boy considering taking up an instrument to give ensemble music-making a go. The benefits of making music with others are innumerable (see a recent report from the Department of Culture, Media and Sport for the proof!), let alone the sheer social enjoyment we all get from working towards a common goal in music. Please do speak to me further about this if you think your son may be interested in taking up a new instrument.

I feel sure you will enjoy tonight's concert, and hope to see many of you for a drink afterwards. My thanks as ever to my wonderful staff team in the Music Department, but in particular to the boys for their hard work and enthusiasm in all they do – especially those you will hear from the top year tonight.
